The Westbrook Land Conservation Trust

The Land Trust has joined the 21st century! Although we still mark 31 properties with old cedar signposts, our organization is very visible via electronic means, now, as well. We encourage the public to view and share information, including photos from the properties, via three avenues.

New website: www.Westbrooklct.org Please enjoy the photographs of nature! On the Membership page, there are electronic membership forms, and a convenient, secure means to join via credit card. We need your support! View the Properties page, which includes links to the locations and maps of our Parcels through Westbrook's MapGeo system. You can also click on a thumbnail Photo to see a picture of each property. You are probably near natural open space that is owned and stewarded by our members. Find our sign, and see if there is a trail. This is land available for passive use by the public.

We also have a Facebook page, available through a link on the Website, or search for the Westbrook Land Conservation Trust on Facebook. Post a comment or picture! Nearly 400 have liked the page already. https://www.facebook.com/WestbrookCTLandTrust. And, thirdly, do email us with questions, concerns, observations at Westbrooklct@gmail.com.

The Land Trust owns 31 land parcels of conserved open space, totaling just under 141 acres, as well as the conservation rights to an additional 51 acres. Founded in 1968, the Land Trust is a small organization that requires annual dues from members. If you appreciate the natural areas we preserve, and are interested in helping us to maintain them, please consider joining the Land Trust. There are plenty of opportunities, including website help, stewardship of properties, replacing signs, bi-annual clean ups, promoting conservation, Newsletter writing, leading a hike or becoming an active Board Member.

Write or email us, or go to the new Website! Enjoy the outdoors.
